Crossing Rachmaninoff

Directed by Rebecca Tansley

Starring Flavio Villani

This documentary, which met with a standing ovation at its first screening, follows Auckland-based, Italian-born pianist Flavio Villani as he prepares to play Sergei Rachmaninoff's demanding Piano Concerto No. 2 in Calabria, Italy — his debut performance as a soloist with an orchestra. Director Rebecca Tansley tails Villani from four months before the performance in Italy, immersing us in the challenges he faces in his life and career choices, and giving us a tantalising taste of Italian family life and food. Movie in English and Italian with subtitles. 52 mins.

We are fortunate that the protagonist of this film, Flavio Villani, has kindly provided us with a DVD for showing at the Club.
